

SERGEĬ GEORGIEVICH SUVOROV

(On his Seventieth Birthday)

Usp. Fiz. Nauk 108, 775 (December, 1972)

THE editorial staff and colleagues of this Journal heartily congratulate Deputy Editor-in-Chief Sergĭ Georgievich Suvorov on his seventieth birthday, which he celebrated in October of this year.

Suvorov has for decades been a prominent figure in the publication of the physico-mathematical literature. His many years of fruitful activity as Director and later as Editor-in-Chief of physico-mathematical publications and Deputy Editor-in-Chief of the journal "Uspekhi Fizicheskikh Nauk" have been a significant contribution to development of the publishing traditions of Soviet Physicomathematical literature, which is highly regarded all over the world.

The depth and versatility of Suvorov's erudition, his highly cultivated editorial taste, his conscientiousness and thoughtfulness have not only helped raise the quality of the literature published, but have served and continue to serve as an example for all editorial workers.

The editorial staff and colleagues of the Uspekhi wish Sergĭ Georgievich long life, health, and further success in all of his spheres of activity.

Translated by R. W. Bowers